Local Girl Graduates From Bible Institute

CROSSFIELD — Miss Jean Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd J. Smith of Crossfield, will be graduating on April 17th from the Prairie Bible Institute at Three Hills. Miss Smith attended the Institute for eight years taking her Bible School training there. She is one of 120 seniors to graduate during the Institute's Annual Spring Missionary Conference, April 12th to 19th.

Being interested in missionary work in Africa, Miss Smith has applied to the Sudan Interior Mission. Before going to that land she expects to take some further missionary training.

Curling Meeting Was Not Well Attended

CROSSFIELD — Owing to a poor attendance at the curling meeting it was decided to elect officers at the oyster supper in the fall, when the representation is always very good.

L. V. Bliss, W. J. Woods and A. D. Stevens have been appointed a committee of three to investigate the problem of artificial ice or a retaining unit. The curlers feel that they have been deprived of a lot of fun due to Chinooks and realize that something should be done about it, as Crossfield boasts a lot of good curlers. Last year the mild weather robbed them all winter.

C.W.L. Elects New Slate

CROSSFIELD — The annual C.W.L. meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Leon Mason on April 1. The following were elected to office: President, Mrs. Bert Bannister; sec.-treas., Mrs. Fred Collins; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Tom Mason; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. W. Harris; 3rd vice-president, Mrs. I. Benoit. The following conveners were appointed: Entertainment, Mrs. Tom Mason; Sick and Social Action, Mrs. Mervin Stafford; Membership, Mrs. Hugh Wickerson; Press and Publicity, Mrs. W. Harris.

Mrs. I. Benoit won the tea prize. Mr. Tom Mason will be hostess for the next meeting, May 6.

News From Other Alberta Towns

Graduation Exercises Held For Civil Defence Grads

STONY PLAIN—On Tuesday, March 31, the Civil Defence organization held the graduation exercises for classes in the Community Centre. Four Edmonton officials were present, namely M. E. Taylor, the senior administrative officer, Fred Jamison, school commandant, Paul Sabourin, public relations officer, and Geo. Dexter, school staff instructor.

Mr. Val Kotcherofsky, the local director, presided, assisted by P. Janz, who is now deputy-director for the town, while Val is given the supervision of wider M.D. area. These two men deserve much credit for the unstinted efforts they have made in this work. Its success is due to their efforts along with that of Miss Story, the Unit Nurse, who taught the home nursing classes.

Present also on the platform were Mayor Wood and John Evjen, Reeve of the M.D., each of whom spoke briefly. Miss Story, called on to present the awards to the class, spoke of the value of the home nursing work, all home makers should, in some degree, be informed in first aid work and care of the sick or injured. Many a long period of suffering may be avoided and perhaps lives saved. Country work is difficult for nurses and doctors and capable informed help in the home is valuable. In times of emergency like the Winnipeg flood, know-how is easily carried around. She said these classes would compare favorably with any in the province and students had been patient and co-operative. Mrs. S. Hadley thanked the council, Mr. Kotcherofsky, Mr. Janz and Dr. Buchanan and others for their help in the Red Cross Drive, etc., and on behalf of the graduates presented Miss Story with a small gift in appreciation for her unselfish service, to which Miss Story replied with thanks and stated she had enjoyed the work.

Mr. Tyler offered greetings that the work done in Stony Plain had set the pace for the province. It was worthwhile work because we had something worth preserving and could make our way of life a still better one. He said that in trying to look after our neighbor we were looking after ourselves as well. Three films were shown illustrating the best methods of carrying out rescue work after a bombing raid. A picture of London during an actual London blitz of 1940 was shown, which reveals the senselessness of war and its destruction. The list of the graduates follows:

First Spring Thaws Find Streets In Good Shape

LAC LA BICHE — Due to the excellent maintenance work done last fall on the streets, and to the fact that there is very little snow to encumber the roadways, the first thaw in March left the streets free of bad ruts. Constable Charles Calvert states that when the frost starts to come out of the ground, the roads are likely to be in much worse condition. This would be the case even if the thawing season is not accompanied by more precipitation in the form of snow or rain.

At any rate it is certain that the difficult spring season will find the weak spots in the streets and roadways where the ditching machines operated last year. This will mean that early and regular road maintenance work will have to be done to avoid bad road conditions.

Support Drive For Clothes For Korea

LAC LA BICHE — Secretary of the WI: Mrs. Waynarovich, reports that the drive for new or used clothing for Korea has been met with very little response.

There must be all kinds of clothing discarded in the backs of closets that could be cleaned and mended and sent in to help a most worthy cause. While doing your spring cleaning take time out to help those less fortunate than ourselves.

Schatzke, H. Schlecker, L. Bergin, E. Stahl, E. Washburn, F. Williams, H. Williams, W. Streiber.

New $25,000 Hotel Planned For Town Of Lac la Biche

LAC LA BICHE — A local man, Mike Stefanik, along with Edmonton associates has run the required legal advertising in an Edmonton paper in the first step towards erection of a new hotel with an estimated value of $250,000. The application is signed by Ross Stefanik as president and Mike Stefanik as secretary.

An option has already been reserved on four lots on the Letourneau Livery Barn property, and if plans materialize the new hotel will be erected on the site at present occupied by the livery barn.

The new hotel will be fully modern and up-to-date in every detail with a number of rooms with bath, and modern lunch room. Lac la Biche has been increasing in population for each of the past ten years and is becoming increasingly popular as a commercial and holiday resort centre. Most Alberta towns with over 1,000 population in the Lac la Biche bracket have two hotels and the majority of citizens seem to be in favor of a second hotel for the town.

Curling Rink Planned At Thorhild

After several meetings, the matter of a curling rink at Thorhild has been decided. Around $3000 has been pledged, and a two sheet rink will be built. At a meeting on Thursday night, March 26th, an organization to be known as the "Thorhild and District Curling Club", was formed with executive officers, and committee members being chosen from the people present at this meeting. Officers elected were: President, Wm. Sawka; First Vice-president, S. Opolski; Second Vice-president, E. Hurskainen; Secretary, W. A. McFarlane; Treasurer, W. D. MacDonald.

Finance Committee: Chairman, Frank Opolski, with two Vice-presidents and Secretary and Treasurer. Building Committee: Chairman, D. Yachimec, with Pete Shewchuk, Alex Sawka, Albert Jardy and B. Tataryn.

A meeting in the near future will be held to hear the report of the finance and building committee. Watch for the date and plan to attend.

Bowling Has Interesting History

FALHER — Bowling is becoming a tremendously popular pastime among Americans and Canadians. An estimated 20 million people — adults and children alike, are believed to have taken part in the sport.

Few people who bowl on today's clean and well-lighted alleys know that their sport started as a religious ceremony hundreds of years ago. An ancient Egyptian religious sect would throw clubs down by rolling a stone, believing they were banishing evil spirits.

The Dutch, who settled in what is now New York City, first brought bowling on this continent. As most other sports, bowling has had its ups and downs. In the latter century, bowling was considered rather a rowdy game because of the dim and untidy alleys where hoodlums gathered.

But a small group of people were enthusiastic about bowling as a good, healthful sport, vowed to "clean-up" the game. Standard rules and tournaments brought encouragement to proprietors who then spiced and spanned and lighted their alleys. The great popularity which bowling has today shows the extent of their successful efforts. Bowling is now a favorite family sport.

Special Services Held In Waskatenau Churches

WASKATENAU — The choir of Waskatenau United Church sang at the morning service in the church at Smoky Lake. Choir leader F. Scott, organist Miss M. Forbes and twelve choir members were present. A solo, "The Holy City" was sung by M. Scott. The choir rendered an Easter anthem and two chants, in addition to the regular song service.

Worshippers filled the church to enjoy the service on the beautiful Easter morning.

Easter services were held in the three Waskatenau churches. A midnight mass was celebrated in the Greek Orthodox Church. Easter morning mass was celebrated in the Greek Catholic Church. At half past seven on Sunday evening, the Easter service was held in the United Church, where a large number were in attendance.

24-Hour Telephone Service To Begin About May 1st

LAC LA BICHE — Something that the Lac la Biche Board of Trade has urged for years, and every resident of the town and district has wanted will become effective in a few weeks. By the end of this month the local telephone office will be on 24-hour service in Lac la Biche.

With the post office moving to new quarters around the middle of April, time will be given to make renovations to accommodate the additional staff.

Also on May 1 a change will be made in the telephone agency and staff. Mrs. Pearl Calvert will take over from Mrs. C. H. Hamel, who has been agent for many years. New switchboard operators will include Mrs. Dorothy Lloyd, Mrs. May Williams and Mrs. Louise Ray.

Town's Sec.-Treas. Leaves Position

LAC LA BICHE — E. H. Weeres, secretary-treasurer, has rendered notice and will be leaving shortly to take up new duties at Vermilion, Alta. Mr. Weeres came to Lac la Biche in December, 1949, to assist in opening a branch of the Imperial Bank of Canada.

He left his position with the bank in July, 1950, to open an insurance office and in the fall of 1950 commenced his duties as secretary-treasurer, a position left vacant after the retirement of Mr. John Wason.

D & V Store Goes Modern

STONY PLAIN — Of interest to residents of Stony Plain is the re-organization taking place in the D. & V. Store. As most people know the letters D.V. stand for Decker and Val, the present proprietors who have been operating the store for 10 years. The adoption of the Big Store technique of self-service with carrier and check-out will probably appeal to many customers as giving time and chance for selection and choice of a wider range of goods. The move has required considerable re-modeling of the store and re-arranging of counters, shelves, etc. The store will be most modern and convenient, with comfortable window seats and rests for tired mothers and shoppers. The opening night of Wednesday, April 15th, from 7:30 to 10 p.m., will feature a welcome by the management to all who choose to visit the store. A hamper of groceries will be given to the lucky ticket holder. Coffee and doughnuts will be free to all.

Hylo Residents Hear Specialists On Rabies Control

HYLO — A Rabies Control meeting was held at Hylo on March 31. A gathering of approximately 75 people heard reports from the following speakers: Dr. Mitchell, Dr. Rolland, Mr. Bucher, Mr. Lore and Mr. Zozerski.

Dr. Mitchell stated that rabies has been known in the north for the last 15 to 20 years and is now gradually working southward to the settled areas.

Dr. Rolland spoke on rabies as it would effect human beings. He stated that even saliva coming in contact with cuts on the hand are dangerous and should be washed in soapy water for 10 or 15 minutes.

Dr. Buckner, Dept. of Lands and Forests, spoke on the precautions being taken by his department. He explained regarding a special area which is being watched by rangers and trappers just north of the settled districts, and said that since March 1, 132 coyotes and wolves have been taken. This department is chiefly concerned in keeping rabies out of settled districts.

Mr. S. Lore, District Agriculturist, explained how his department meant to control rabies in settled areas. He gave a fine explanation on bounty and coyote-getting guns. Dr. Lore also explained the reason why we should keep all dogs under control. He also stated that dogs in this area are not allowed to run at large.

Mr. Zozirsky explained the operation of the coyote-getters gun, and instructed farmers how to operate these getters.

Approximately 15 farmers passed the test in setting these coyote-getters. This should help in cutting down the numbers of coyotes and wolves.

Red Cross Drive Just Short Of $300 Mark

ONOWAY — Contributions are continuing to come in to Onoway and district campaign offices according to Mrs. Carmichael, Chairman of the local Red Cross campaign. Quota for this area is set at $550.00, of which $298.18 has been collected. The campaign will continue until the quota is reached.

With a provincial quota of $459,900 and the Red Cross pledged to spend over $600,000 in Alberta in 1953, curtailment of Red Cross services would follow should the provincial campaign fall short. Included in the $600,000 is the nationally-sponsored Blood Transfusion Service, arts and crafts for veterans and film service for veterans.

No phase of Red Cross safely can be allowed to lapse. The Blood Transfusion Service, work for crippled children, swimming and water safety, Junior Red Cross, disaster relief, civilian defence and work for civilian war refugees must continue.

New General Store To Open About May 1st

LAC LA BICHE — Klim Mischuk of Blue Jay is completing work on a new store building next door to the B & L Store, opposite Hayward's Lumber office. Mr. Mischuk has been planning for some time to open for business but delays in construction have held back the actual opening date. It is now expected that the store will be ready about May 1.

The new building has two front entrances to the store and a doorway in the centre leading up to the second floor which will be living quarters for the Mischuk family.

ALBERTA TO GET CANADA'S FIRST GAS TURBINE

From the head office of Canadian Utilities in Edmonton, Mr. R. Nurse, Superintendent of Production, announces the placing of an order for a 7,000 K.W. gas turbine electric generating unit at a cost of approximately Five Hundred and Sixty Thousand Dollars ($560,000.00) for installation at Vermillion where the present natural gas fired steam plant is located. By this provision, the over-all capacity of this plant will be almost doubled.

The Vermillion plant is the central source of supply for the Vegreville district of the Company, extending from west of Vegreville to the Saskatchewan boundary and as far north as Cold Lake. Within this district, service is furnished to 61 urban communities, 3 oil fields and 24 rural electrification districts. There is a steadily increasing demand for more energy from all these sources, particularly from the oil industry and the rural section. In addition to this, the Company is being called on to supply the extensive electrical requirements of the large project of the Department of National Defence at Cold Lake on the Alberta-Saskatchewan boundary.

The gas turbine is a mechanical device, and in its simplest form consists of a compressor, a combustion chamber and a turbine, the compressor and the turbine being connected together on one shaft. The compressor draws in air and compresses it to about 75 lbs. per square inch and forces this air into the combustion chamber where it is mixed with a fuel such as oil or natural gas. Here it is ignited and burns with a continuous flame to raise the temperature of the air leaving the combustion chamber to approximately 1200 degrees F. This highly heated air has expanded and has increased in volume several times. It then travels at high velocity through the blades of a turbine, causing the whole assembly to rotate, thereby supplying power in the form of a rotating shaft. The shaft can then be connected direct to its load which, in this particular case, is an electric generator. Other forms of load to which these turbines are connected are pumps, other compressors, propellers aboard ships, railroad locomotives, generators and so forth. The engineering studies on the development of the gas turbine have covered a period considerably in excess of 20 years. What was being sought was the production of power directly from the introduction of fuel, in a simpler form than an internal combustion engine or the steam engine or steam turbine with gas or fuel oil fired boilers. In all the planning the main objective was to arrive at a plant, simple in design and construction, where maintenance and operating costs would be materially reduced. One of the nearest approaches to the gas turbine generally known today is the turbo-jet aircraft engine which actually sprang from the principles of the earlier gas turbines and was developed during World War II. Certain basic principles are common to both of these, but the end results looked for were different. For industrial application, the power must be transmitted through a shaft; with the airplane, it is simply a matter of power thrust against the resistance of the atmosphere. When this gas turbine is placed in service in the summer of 1954 with an estimated overall cost of $620,000.00, it will be the first of its kind to be installed in Canada. While this is true, the gas turbine for electrical generation is well past the experimental stage. Several units have been installed in the Eastern and Western Hemispheres and some of these have been in operation long enough to demonstrate the advantages of the new technique and its economy and reliability in operation. Some of these established advantages compared with other types of thermal plants are: little or no cooling water is required; they are compact and thus require smaller housing accommodation; they can be placed in service rapidly; they are much simpler than either the conventional steam turbine or the internal combustion engine and finally their cost is generally lower than other types of thermal plants of a like capacity. However, their loading must be kept high to be economical.

Prominent in research work leading up to the development and application of this new prime mover to duties such as the generation of electric energy has been the firm of Brown-Boveri Limited in Switzerland. As a result of their outstanding success in the field, it is appropriate that Canadian Utilities' order for the new 7000 K.W. unit should be placed through Brown-Boveri Canada Limited.

This company recently opened a plant near Montreal where electrical equipment will be manufactured. This particular 7000 K.W. installation will, however, be manufactured at the parent plant in Switzerland.

SHOOT AT DEER, KILLS FATHER

CROSS CITY, FLA. — Seeing a deer's antlers through the brush, Bob Rosier, 23, let loose with his rifle. The shot killed his father, W. H. Rosier, 51, of Gainesville, Fla. Rosier had just shot the animal himself and was bending over to cut its throat when his son, sighting the antlers, also shot.

PUBLIC BUBBLE BATH

LONDON — A prankster turned Trafalgar Square's famous fountain at the foot of Nelson's Column into a frothy bubble bath to the delight of passers-by but the consternation of public officials. The joker poured detergent into strategic spots around the pool and water from the fountainheads churned it into snowy lather.

IN SIMPLE FORM the principle of the Gas Turbine. See text for description.

We have lived in the city for a few years now and it has been my task to pay our gas bill many times. Nearly every time I have paid it at the main office rather than the bank. Last week I was down town, quite busy, when I decided to pay this bill. I rushed into the Civic Block and stood in line for about five minutes, rather impatient at the delay. Finally when I arrived at the wicket the clerk looked at my bill and said, "I'm sorry, you don't pay this here but you must go to Northwestern Utilities on 104th St." I guess the people there must have thought I had just arrived in the city. Did I ever feel foolish! I.E.H.

North Edmonton.

I was clerking in the dress department in a large store while a big sale was in progress. People were milling around bumping each other and there wasn't a foot of floor space to spare. I swung around quickly and slammed hard into a feminine figure—grabbed the poor thing with both hands and began apologizing profusely. It turned out to be a dummy, and a good many customers got quite a kick out of my embarrassing moment.

Watch That Tractor

The farm tractor is a killer! Without doubt the most dangerous item on the farm is the tractor. Practically every week someone in Alberta is crushed beneath the wheels, pinned under the upturned frame or wound around a pulley or shaft of this streamlined giant. In most cases the cause of the accident is carelessness — a lack of appreciation of the tremendous power that can wreak havoc as easily as it performs miracles.

Ten simple steps to greater life expectancy for the tractor driver are offered here by C. A. Cheshire, Extension Agricultural Engineer, Alberta Department of Agriculture. If applied, they will go far towards reducing tractor accidents.

1. Don't let children drive a tractor. A child too young to handle a twelve horse team shouldn't be asked, or allowed to handle a twenty or thirty horse outfit that doesn't even have horse sense.
2. Don't allow riders on the tractor. There is only room for one person on the seat. No one else should be riding on the machine.
3. Don't hitch a tractor too high — the point of pull should always be below the back axle. On hilly or uneven land it must be lower than on flat, level land.
4. Don't wear ties, or loose or ragged clothing around a tractor.
5. Don't try to operate clutches from the ground.
6. Apply and lock wheel brakes, and leave the tractor stopped and in gear if you have to stop on a grade.
7. Keep away from soft ditch banks and road shoulders.
8. Stop the engine when refueling the tractor.
9. Never drive a tractor when weary. Relax, or even take a nap for a few minutes if you start to feel drowsy.
10. Slow down. The combination of road gear and steering brakes acts too fast for human reflexes.

Eggs and Spots

(Toronto Saturday Night)

There is something very puzzling about eggs. Not so long ago we kept a flock of hens, for our own use, for amusement and we hoped, for a little profit. It was an educational experience, if not so amusing as we had expected; we soon learned that hens lay all sorts of eggs other than Grade A Large, and that eggs which have slight flaws like blood spots in them are called "rots." We did not get the rots back from the grader, and we were not paid for them because it was said they could not be sold.

The other morning our breakfast menu was changed because the last two eggs in a carton marked Grade A had huge blood spots in them. There is always the possibility, of course, that those eggs had been inspected by a grader in the throes of a hangover; but we can't help wondering what really happened to those rots for which we never collected any cash.

Note and Comment

The wheat crop in the Union of South Africa in 1952 totalled 19 million bushels compared with 25½ million in 1951. About 11 million bushels will have to be imported to supply the domestic demand.

The faithful horse, which for years was the source of draft power on Canadian farms, is fast disappearing therefrom. The decline in horse numbers on these farms in the past 28 years totals 2,644,200.

Foods worth about $700 per United States farmer are exported from that country each year. They include 55 per cent of the total rice production, 45 per cent of wheat, 35 per cent of cotton, 20 per cent of tobacco, 20 per cent of lard and 15 per cent of soybeans.

Canadian sales of wheat under the International Wheat Agreement totalled 154.5 million bushels in the first seven months of the 1952-53 crop year. Among the major buyers were the United Kingdom with 54.8 million bushels, Belgium with 13 million, India with 11.2 million and Italy with 11 million.

The Wild Horse Roundup

By SENATOR F. W. GERSHAW

For centuries the fox hunt has been the big sporting event of the season for British people. Songs, pictures and stories have given everyone a knowledge of what it involved in the way of preparation and skilful horsemanship. Although not so colorful, the wild horse roundup calls for even more hard riding and endurance.

Bands of non-tamed horses are found in the remote hills of Southern Alberta and the Northern States. They are as wild as deer, and because they consume much valuable grass, the stockmen from time to time make an attempt to get rid of them. They do this by rounding them up, selling any of them if they can and shipping the remainder to a fox-meat factory at $3.00 per head.

These untamed animals are swift and wily. When pursued, they will circle and hide. They break up into two or more herds and run in different directions. In a rough country, the riders may not see the outlaws for long intervals. They will only hear the thuds and clicks of the hooves on the stones. They must follow the hoof marks through bad lands and, at times, a strip of riley water in a clear running stream alone indicates their nearness.

On the day of the drive, riders will go around the area of the feeding grounds and, at sunrise, take positions on the crest of a high hill. At a signal, they will start downward through the thick scrub where there are rocks and fallen trees but no trails. They will have difficulty in locating the wild herd but if they persist they will come upon the leader of the band. There will be no mistaking him for a domestic horse. His mane will be long, falling over his face and down to his knees. He will be standing with head erect sniffing the breeze and will make a magnificent picture. This stallion will give a signal and then dash through the bush, followed by the mares and colts. If an open space is found, the leader will run, along with his head down like a hound dog following a scent.

The chase will continue over creek and swamp, down hills and over open spaces at a killing pace for the riders. Sometimes the position of the herd will only be located by a cloud of dust like a water-spout over a quiet sea.

After five or six miles another group of riders will take over and finally the exhausted animals will be guided into pens, perhaps at a shipping point.

It is a brutal sight to see, say, 200 of these graceful animals in a pen—the stallions in their fury will fight and strike at each other. In the general melee, many of the colts are wounded and trampled to death. The frantic mares whinnie and mill around, hoping to get their young ones out of the fighting mass.

Armed with quirts, sticks and poles, men on the rails of pens shout and whack the panic-stricken animals into the cars. When then pens are empty, the job is done. The riders return to camp unmindful of what happens to the captives in the cars.

Order Chicks Now

Order chicks early and order early chicks, advises F. J. Higginson, Acting Poultry Commissioner, Alberta Department of Agriculture. Early chicks make the most economical gains and come into production at a suitable date, he says. They are likely to produce a greater number of eggs during the season when the price is attractive.

Farmers who think they can go into a hatchery and buy chicks at any time may be disappointed. As a result of previous experience hatcherymen are playing safe this year and keeping their settings pretty well on a level with orders received. Reports indicate approximately 200,000 eggs less in Alberta machines this year than at the same date last year. Avoid disappointment by ordering your chicks without delay, Mr. Higginson advises.

The Bible Today

... And at midnight Paul and Silas prayed, and sang praises unto God; and the prisoners heard them. And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken; and immediately all the doors were opened, and everyone's bands were loosed. And the keeper of the prison awaking out of his sleep, and seeing the prison doors open, he drew out his sword, and would have killed himself, supposing that the prisoners had been fled. But Paul cried with a loud voice, saying, Do thyself no harm: for we are all here. Then he called for a light, and sprang in, and came trembling, and fell down before Paul and Silas, and brought them out and said, Sirs, what must I do to be saved? And they said, Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house. And they spake unto him the word of the Lord, and to all that were in his house. And he took them the same hour of the night, and washed their stripes; and was baptized, and he and all his, straightway. And when he had brought them into his house, he set meat before them, and rejoiced, believing in God with all his house.

—Acts 16: 25-34.

Voice of the People

ANSWER TO "TAP ROOT"

I will answer a few things which you had in your letter.

We have two very fine clubs organized in our district, but will the people join them?—No! They are either too busy and tired after looking after two or three children, or can't take time away from the beer parlor, or it may cost them a dime or so to join.

As for coming to church, well they will come if we serve lunch after, but if not they haven't time.

And we also have a few who go around and run our church and clubs down, so that new members don't know whether to come or not.

Wouldn't our fashion shows be lovely when most of us have size 36 waists? Of course there are a few who think they still look like high school girls.

So come on folks, make a success of the clubs we have and most people will like and respect us.

CONVERTIBILITY OF MONEY

A great deal of talk is going on about the convertibility of the Pound Sterling. All agree that if only the Pound Sterling were convertible into American dollars that Britain could do much more trade. But some are frightened that Britain does not have enough reserves in gold or American dollars to support the pound in case big demands were suddenly made upon her, and they consider that Britain had better wait until tariffs come down in the United States and Canada and other countries so that British trade can increase.

The reply is that if we wait as long as that it will be generations before the pound is convertible, and that during the interval the world will lose its faith in the pound and will join the dollar block.

It is asserted that if Britain will only take a chance to free the pound that she would do so much more business the world over that countries like the United States and Canada would then, in self-defence, be obliged to lower their tariffs; that Britain's prosperity was built up because Britain and her merchants took chances, and that now is the time to take bold, seasoned chances again.

When we drive across the Rockies we are amazed at the engineering of the highway. But what about Marcus Whitman who drove the first wagon over them to Oregon? No road, no trail, no nothing! And in the wagon with Whitman and Jason were their young brides. What a honeymoon!

LETTERS TO LOUISA

Dear Louisa:
I am a spinster and live alone. I have a small yard but a very pretty one. I enjoy working in it and am very proud of the way it looks.
Just recently a family has moved in next to me with four children. They jump over the hedge into my yard, break down my flowers and climb my trees. What can I do? The parents seem to be nice people but never seem to think their children are misbehaving.

Answer:
With all the playground space available, nowadays, there is no excuse for people letting their children run wild over their neighbors' territory. If they haven't the space for their children to play in, they should see that they take advantage of the public playgrounds.

It is certainly discouraging to plan and work in a garden and have it wrecked by children who haven't been taught to respect other people's belongings.
Have a quiet talk with the children first and if that doesn't help ask the parents to keep them in their own yard.

Dear Louisa:
I hope you can help me. I am single and was going with a girl I really loved. I lost her but I still have hopes she will come to me some day and see that I was her friend.

I lost her through a married man telling her things about me. I wrote to her different times and tried to tell her that this man was only making trouble between us but she didn't answer my letters.

I still have her picture and I haven't given this girl up yet. I see other girls but I don't bother going out with them because I love this girl.

Do you think I ought to send her picture back and try to forget her? What do you think I should do?
Broken Hearted Dan

Answer:
Well, Dan, if I were in your place I think I would make an effort to see this girl and explain my position to her. I think you can do more by seeing her than by writing to her.

I don't know what the man could have told about you but she is certainly not treating you right by not letting you defend yourself.

I think you are making a mistake, however, by not going out with other girls if she keeps on acting this way. There is a possibility that she was tired of going with you and is just using these tales as an excuse to break off with you.

If she refuses to hear your side of the question, I think you will be wise to return her picture and try to forget her.

CANCER CRUSADE LAUNCHED IN ALBERTA; PROV. QUOTA $200,000

A drive to raise $1,500,000 throughout Canada to fight cancer was launched this week in Alberta.

The announcement was accompanied by a statement from G.R.A. Rice of Edmonton, President of the Alberta Division of the Canadian Cancer Society and a message from Society Provincial officials.

"The key to success in fighting cancer," Mr. Rice said, "is the volunteer worker. On the eve of this Crusade I want to pay tribute to the volunteers in this community who will shoulder the task of raising funds and informing people how they can best guard against cancer."

The entire programme of cancer control hinges on their work. If it were not for their efforts there would be no national half-million dollar research programme; there would be no service programme for cancer patients and there certainly would be no chance of people getting the life-saving facts about detecting and curing early cancer.

We have been assigned a goal of $200,000 as our share in the National Campaign. I want to make sure everyone realizes that this is a minimum figure. We can, with a quota, I am sure that all the residents of this community will join me in this objective."

From the Provincial headquarters of the Canadian Cancer Society came a message praising the local branch for its prompt start in the Campaign.

"You are to be congratulated for your promising beginning", R. N. Talbot of Calgary, Executive Director of the Society's Alberta Division said.

"Your share of Alberta's goal of $200,000 is vitally important. Every contribution even as little as a dime, is helpful. Ten cents buys a test tube. Twenty dollars will support a research bed for one day. Five hundred dollars will buy a special microscope and $15,000 will equip an isotope laboratory.

Of every dollar contributed to the Canadian Cancer Society in 1952, 41 cents went to a national research programme, 22 cents was used in the Society's public education programme through films, publications, exhibits etc., 26 cents went to welfare services in behalf of cancer sufferers, while 11 cents was devoted to planning, supervision and administration services.

Clerk—Yes, madam; will you have it too tight or too short, or both?

Comeback

"Say, you're the limit. If I mailed a letter addressed to the 'dumbest man in Boston', I know who they'd deliver it to."

"So do I; they'd return it to the sender."

Mr. Knagg—I never want what isn't my own, and I have a right to my own when I want it.

His Wife—Not when it's your own way that you want.

Quite Appropriate

Tombstone Dealer (after several futile suggestions) — How would just a simple "Gone Home" do for an inscription?

The Widow—I guess that will be all right. It was always the last place he ever thought of going.

Probably Would

Boss (handing back two letters to stenog.): "It would perhaps be better, Miss Smith, if you signed the letters to Dear Jack and Darling Harold yourself."

He Snored

First Traveler—You woke me out of a sound sleep.

Second Traveler—I had to. The sound was too loud.

Enduring

Mrs. Shortly was discussing the latest fashions with a caller.

"Did you say your husband was fond of those clinging gowns?"

"Yes. He likes one to cling to me for about three years."

And Used So Little

"You know women's minds are cleaner than men's."

"They should be, they're changed more often."

CANADA ACCEPTS I.W.A. PRICE WHEAT AT $2.05 A BUSHEL

WASHINGTON — The majority of the 46 participating countries settled on the terms of the new International Wheat Agreement. The countries include the importing and exporting countries.

Britain, the major importer, did not accept the terms which call for a base price of $2.05 a bushel. Canada accepted the price.

The delegate of Britain said that his country was not prepared to accept a price above $2.00.

The present price, effective until July 31, is $1.80.

The governments of the participating countries must ratify the agreement before it can become effective.

The agreement seeks to stabilize world trade in the grain by means of export and import quotas and by a system of maximum and minimum prices.

That is, major exporting countries—which are Canada, U.S., Australia and France—agree to sell specified quantities of wheat to importing countries at fixed prices.

Fourteen days are granted to the participating countries to sign the new pact. Negotiators held the hope that Britain would by that time accept the new figure.

The present agreement quotas total 508,000,000 bushels, or slightly more than half of the wheat moving in international trade. Britain's quota is some 177,000,000 bushels. The failure of Britain to join in would of course reduce the amount of grain shipped under the agreement considerably.

Participating countries were given to July 15 to ratify the agreement which is scheduled to go into effect on Aug. 1 this year.

The new agreement will become effective when ratified by 80 per cent of the exporting countries, and 70 per cent of the importing. Delegates from all of the exporting countries signified their approval and more than 70 per cent of the delegates from the importing nations.

The new proposal would set a minimum price for wheat moving under its terms for $1.55 compared with the present minimum of $1.20.

Export and import quotas cannot be decided upon until it is determined which countries ratify the pact.

FUA PRESIDENT DISSATISFIED

Henry Young of Millet, president of the Farmers Union of Alberta, said Thursday that the proposed $1.55-a-bushel floor price under a new international wheat agreement is "not satisfactory" to his organization.

Last year Canada was exceeded in gold production only by South Africa and Russia.

R. D. PURDY

Wheat Pool
Manager Passes

R. D. Purdy, general manager of the Alberta Wheat Pool, died suddenly at his home in Calgary on Sunday, March 29th. In the position he occupied for over 28 years he was known and respected throughout the length and breadth of the province and his passing is regretted by many thousands of people.

The late Mr. Purdy was born in Brighton, Ontario, in 1899, his ancestors being of United Empire Loyalist stock. He came with his parents to Alberta in 1906, his father having purchased a farm in the Millet district. R. D. Purdy, then a boy of 17, took a business course in Edmonton and entered the employ of the Merchants Bank of Canada at Wetaskiwin. When that bank was absorbed by the Bank of Montreal Mr. Purdy was kept on the staff and in 1922 became assistant manager of the main branch in Edmonton.

The Alberta Wheat Pool was formed in 1923, the manager being Chester T. Elliott who died two years later. R. D. Purdy was chosen as his successor early in 1925.
 Later, when the Pool elevator system was built he became manager of the entire organization, a position he filled with great ability until his death.

Aside from the responsibilities of his position, Mr. Purdy took an active part in public affairs. He was greatly interested in the Red Cross movement and a member of the Alberta Council of that organization. He was also chairman of

Name Supervisor
Farm Broadcasts

A University of Alberta graduate in agriculture, Everett R.
 McCrimmon, has been named supervisor of a farm radio program which the provincial department of agriculture intends to sponsor, beginning April 1, according to an announcement, Monday by Hon. D. A. Ure, minister of agriculture.

A total of $50,000 was provided in this year's provincial budget for the new service. Broadcasting is expected to require $35,000 and salaries $15,000.

Plans call for a 10-minute broadcast, five days a week, over radio stations in Edmonton, Calgary, Red Deer, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat and Grande Prairie. The program will be heard during the noon hour.

A native of Bon Accord district, Mr. McCrimmon started with the agriculture department two years ago, as instructor in horticulture and botany and dean of men at the Vermillion School of Agriculture. He is a graduate of that school.

Children Entertain
Parents, Teachers

FULTONVALE — The teacher and student teacher had a Culmination tea in the school on March 27th.

It was a lovely afternoon and nearly all the children's mothers attended. The children entertained the mothers and teachers with a program of Enterprise activities and singing. Dr. McDougall, from the Faculty of Education was present, and gave an interesting talk on school affairs.

There were seven student teachers present. A sumptuous luncheon was served, and everyone enjoyed the afternoon.

the Alberta branch of the Canadian Forestry Association. He took an active part in community, patriotic and philanthropic work, the extent of his contributions being little known to the general public. A few years ago he was elected to the board of directors of the Bank of Montreal, his interests therein being mainly on behalf of western agriculture.

The late Mr. Purdy was a man of high principals. His friendliness and consideration of the interests of others gained for him widespread respect and affection.
